Applications

Raychem manufactures all the products needed to build a MIL-STD-1553B data bus network. In addition to the main components (couplers, connectors, contacts, and cables), Raychem supplies the accessory components that may be necessary to complete a data bus system. These include:

- Bus and stub terminators (spliced-in and connectorized D-621 series).
- Cable splice kits.
- EMI/environment-resistant connector caps.
- Braid terminators and strain relief tubing (for rework applications).

Features/Benefits

- A single source for all harness components.
- Products designed to work together.
